Recommendation

I would like to take the opportunity to give a recommendation for Thomas Baschab as an inspirational speaker. Thomas attended our Sales Kick Off in Copenhagen in August 2023 and gave a wonderful inspirational session for us.

Thomas mixes theoretical insights about our subconscious mind with practical experiments which makes the message engaging and easy to follow. For us, the topic is very close to our Company values to see the opportunities, to realize our full potential, to set a goal to be able to live our dreams. So, the session really translated our company values to become easier to understand.

Some comments from the audience:

"A lecture that really engage me with a good mix of theory and practical examples"

"Very inspiring session, important thing to really think over as a team/ in work and private! Very happy that I had the possibility to listen and join."

"I was amazed to see that it works to influence the subconscious mind – I always thought it was humbug."

"I like the word "interesting" – I will use it both at work and in private life. Very useful word."
